“ My semester abroad at Vancouver Island University was an incredible experience. The combination of academic challenges, new friendships, and unforgettable travels not only provided me with a wealth of knowledge but also helped me develop personally. I highly recommend a semester in Canada to everyone! The orientation week before the start of the semester was a fantastic opportunity to get to know the university and its offerings. I was particularly impressed by the sense of community, which was fostered through small activities and campus events. **”
